

To all ASGA Members – Please Read!

Your chapter board will NEVER send you an email requesting funds by way of a gift card. Always, always use due diligence when responding to an email. See below “How to Protect Yourself”

Spoofing and Phishing

Spoofing

Spoofing is when someone disguises an email address, sender name, phone number, or website URL—often just by changing one letter, symbol, or number—to convince you that you are interacting with a trusted source.

For example, you might receive an email that looks like it's from your boss, a company you've done business with, or even from someone in your family—but it actually isn't.

Criminals count on being able to manipulate you into believing that these spoofed communications are real, which can lead you to download malicious software, send money, or disclose personal, financial, or other sensitive information.

Phishing

Phishing schemes often use spoofing techniques to lure you in and get you to take the bait. These scams are designed to trick you into giving information to criminals that they shouldn't have access to.

In a phishing scam, you might receive an email that appears to be from a legitimate business and is asking you to update or verify your personal information by replying to the email or visiting a website. The web address might look similar to one you've used before. The email may be convincing enough to get you to take the action requested.

But once you click on that link, you're sent to a spoofed website that might look nearly identical to the real thing—like your bank or credit card site—and asked to enter sensitive information like passwords, credit card numbers, banking PINs, etc. These fake websites are used solely to steal your information.

Phishing has evolved and now has several variations that use similar techniques:

- Vishing scams happen over the phone, voice email, or VoIP (voice over Internet Protocol) calls.
- Smishing scams happen through SMS (text) messages.
- Pharming scams happen when malicious code is installed on your computer to redirect you to fake websites.

How to Protect Yourself

- Remember that companies generally don't contact you to ask for your username or password.
- Don't click on anything in an unsolicited email or text message. Look up the company's phone number on your own (don't use the one a potential scammer is providing) and call the company to ask if the request is legitimate.
- Carefully examine the email address, URL, and spelling used in any correspondence. Scammers use slight differences to trick your eye and gain your trust.
- Be careful what you download. Never open an email attachment from someone you don't know and be wary of email attachments forwarded to you.
- Set up two-factor (or multi-factor) authentication on any account that allows it, and never disable it.
- Be careful with what information you share online or on social media. By openly sharing things like pet names, schools you attended, family members, and your birthday, you can give a scammer all the information they need to guess your password or answer your security questions.
- Remember – If you are doubtful there's probably a good reason. If you're not sure, call to the person in your chapter who is supposedly sending the email.

Sharpen your golf mindset by using these 6 tips from Cameron McCormick

BY: NICK DIMENGO, GOLF.COM

Most amateurs think they have a strong golf mindset. But as soon as they shank a drive or fail to execute a flop shot, they immediately lose their composure and begin to see their scores unravel.

But Cameron McCormick — a GOLF Top 100 Teacher and the swing coach for players like Jordan Spieth, So Yeon Ryu and Beau Hossler, among others — says amateur golfers have the ability to keep their cool like the pros; it just takes some repetition and simple mental exercises.

McCormick has been around some of the best golfers in the world, along with some of the top sports psychologists. So to help all the Average Joes understand the secrets to a confident golf mindset, he recently shared on Instagram a few tips that he's learned along the way.

Take a look below to see what he suggests to remain confident despite the ups and downs that a round of golf often brings.

Stop shoulding on yourself

In McCormick's experiences, he reminds amateurs to temper their expectations of themselves on the golf course. Sure, we all think we can hit the ball like a pro, but, in reality, it's not going to happen.

Says McCormick, "negative affects your way more than positive, so let's be careful what we tell ourselves, what we listen to, [and] who we allow to influence us."

Mistake amnesia

Amateurs are going to make mistakes. Pros are going to make mistakes. The trick is to accept them, have a short memory about them, and move on to the next shot — which is the only thing any player can control after making a bad shot.

As McCormick suggests, "use your mistakes to make corrections in the moment, but then don't continue to play looking in the rearview mirror."

Highlight reel

Having a strong golf mindset means visualizing the shot before you take (and hopefully make) it. But it also means celebrating the shots that you have hit with success, and trying to channel that same energy for shots moving forward. This doesn't necessarily mean recording every shot on video, but, according to McCormick, simply journaling about a positive result.

"It can be a written reel. Journal about your best shots in vivid detail and replay them in your mind."

Big-time player = big-time play

When the pressure is at its highest, how will you respond? Sure, a pro feels that weight on their shoulders with nearly every shot. But for amateurs, it can simply be a putt to break 100 for the first time, or a fun challenge between friends on a closest to the pin. McCormick says to imagine being a junkyard dog, digging deep to come out on top.

"When you're backed into a corner with threat (real or imagined), be a pit bull in a fight with 10 others for the last scrap of meat."

Anger

Plenty of amateurs experience anger during a round of golf. If you let it get the best of you, it will derail your entire scorecard, and take away any joy of playing. But McCormick says anger can be used to your advantage — so long as you reimagine it.

"It's useful as a motivator, to challenge yourself to rise up in those moments when you may have cowered away before," McCormick says. "It can be used to challenge focus and attention to shift from catastrophizing to the shot at hand."

Be the cork

During a round of golf, players will experience a number of different emotions. How one responds to both the negative and positive ones can make all the difference in having a strong or weak golf mindset. This will impact your score — so McCormick says players must "pop back up" when things don't go right.

"Hit a bad shot? So what, go get it up and down," he says. "Resiliency and grit define great athletes."

Your chapter newsletter follows after the following pages . . .

ASGA Annual Dues are $89.00. Do you want LOWER DUES?

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE ONE YEAR OF FREE DUES?

You likely joined the American Singles Golf Association because you wanted to meet more singles and play more golf. We can't help you with your golf swing, however, we're on a mission to grow your chapter's membership. Golf season is upon us . . . are you onboard to grow your chapter or are you satisfied with your current membership level?

Here's the plan:

- 1) on the following page, you'll see a revised "Single? Play Golf?" sign. It now has five (5) tear-off tabs instead of eight (8).
- 2) You write-in your identification (either your member number or first initial + last name) on each of the tabs. Use scissors to cut the tabs apart.
- 3) You print as many signs as you wish, keep them in the front seat of your car along with some push pins and post them anywhere you're permitted to post, e.g. golf shop bulletin boards, golf shop restrooms, driving ranges, stores, etc. If you would like ASGA National to print five (5) yellow signs for you, please let us know by emailing Irene@SinglesGolf.com or calling 980-833-6450 from 9am-1:45pm, M-F, Eastern.
- 4) For every three (3) people who join using your name or ID on the yellow sign, you'll receive 12-months of ASGA membership. Note: your name or member number, as the referrer, must be submitted with the new member's application. No exceptions. No retroactivity. Please do not add your own name to an application form. It must be completed only the by the member currently joining and completing the application.
- 5) New members can join over the phone, at our website (SinglesGolf.com/join), fax, etc., however, they MUST use your member number or name at the time of joining as the person who referred the new member. Again, no exceptions to this policy.
- 6) ASGA National will keep track of how many new members you get credit for and will automatically add 12-months to your membership. Please, no slanting of these rules

Be a Hero in Your Chapter.
Get the signs printed and get them hanging!
*(and remind others to participate)

IN ADDITION, WE CAN SEND YOU FREE BUSINESS CARDS!

As you have seen from the previous two pages of this newsletter, ASGA National is committed to seeing your chapter grow. We believe by asking each individual member for help, your chapter will grow its membership.

Besides using just the yellow signs to gain more members in your local chapter, upon request we will also provide you with ASGA business cards as shown below. More can be sent to you if needed, but we'll start out by sending you 25 business cards that you can give to anyone you believe might be a potential member. Are you out and about and see someone wearing a golf shirt or hat? Start a conversation: tell them you're a part of a local club for singles who play golf and simply ask "are you single?" Even if they aren't, chances are they know a golfer who is. Give them a card that's pre-filled with you name (or member #) and contact info.

Remember, you get free dues for referring 3 new folks who join!

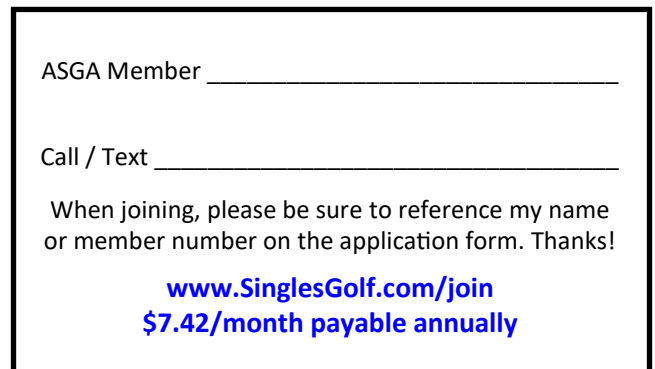

Below shows how your business card appears. They don't come to you automatically, you'll have to order them. E-mail Irene@SinglesGolf or call 980-833-6450 (9am—1:30pm, Mon-Fri, Eastern) for your free 25 cards.
